Pre-Installation Checklist

- A PC or laptop with a USB 2.0 interface, running Windows 2000/Vista/XP

Warning: Uninstall any other ORiNOCO® hardware or software installed in your PC before proceeding with the 11n USB Adapter installation.

Installation Procedure for 802.11a/b/g/n USB Adapter

1. Insert the Installation and Driver CD in the CD-ROM drive. It will automatically activate the autorun installation program. If the installation does not start automatically, then open the explorer and double-click the Setup.exe to manually start the installation.
2. When the ORiNOCO® 802.11n Client Installation Program window appears, follow the on-screen instructions to install and configure your wireless adapter.
Note: When the USB Adapter is plugged into the USB port, cancel the Found New Hardware Wizard if it appears and continue with the ORiNOCO installation.
3. After installation, click on the ORiNOCO® Client Utility Icon that appears in the Notification Area on the desktop. This displays the ORiNOCO Client Utility interface through which you can modify settings according to your requirement.

Note: In the Windows Vista environment, the installer installs all the required device drivers for the adapter. For managing the device, it is recommended to use the automatic wireless network configuration program provided by Windows Vista. The ORiNOCO® client manager will not be available for Windows Vista.
